

European Studies

European Studies at Trinity is a broad-ranging, integrated, multi-disciplinary programme, which encompasses the history, culture, languages and politics of European nations.

You will study the European past in order to understand the present, and examine contemporary Europe in all its complexity on a Continent-wide basis.

All European Studies students are required to study abroad in their third year.

Entry Requirements:

Students should have a high level of competence in at least one European language other than English. No student may take more than one language from beginner level.

Individual Course requirements are available at:

www.tcd.ie/courses/undergraduate

International entry requirements are available at:

www.tcd.ie/study/non-eu/undergraduate/

Why choose European Studies?

If you enjoy studying languages, if you are a talented linguist and have an interest in history, literature and contemporary society, this could be the right course for you. European Studies is designed for students with a broad intellectual appetite.

Graduates of European Studies work in many different professional sectors, such as media and the arts, journalism, marketing, accountancy, diplomacy, banking, law, translation and education.

For more information: www.tcd.ie/European_Studies

To Apply: www.tcd.ie/study

	Year One	Year Two	Year Three	Year Four
Languages	Students take two languages from French, German, Italian, Polish, Russian and Spanish. French and German are not available at beginner level.	Students continue to study their two languages. Students will select a major language at the end of their second year.	Integrated year abroad in the country of your major language. Study Abroad locations include Paris, Strasbourg, Grenoble, Bordeaux, Freiburg, Tübingen, Hamburg, Vienna, Salamanca, Seville, Alcalá, Pravia, Siena, Florence, Moscow and Cracow.	Students will focus on their major language and will continue to study their minor language.
Core Modules	All students enroll in core modules during their first year:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Modern European History • The Making of Modernity 1750-1820 	Study Abroad locations include Paris, Strasbourg, Grenoble, Bordeaux, Freiburg, Tübingen, Hamburg, Vienna, Salamanca, Seville, Alcalá, Pravia, Siena, Florence, Moscow and Cracow. Students will study History, Cultural History, Politics, and Sociology at their host university.	Modernity and Society: Ideas and culture in Europe since 1850
Module Options	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Early Modern European History • Introduction to Social Science • Introduction to the History of Ideas 	One option chosen from modules in History, Politics, Economics or Sociology.		Students choose two options from a wide variety of modules in History, Cultural History, Politics and Sociology. Students may choose to write a dissertation project in place of a module option.