

Research making health services better: a celebration of Professor Charles Normand's career, research and impact on international health systems & policies

Venue: Regent House, Trinity College Dublin

Time: 11-5pm on 5 September 2024

Welcome by Prof Steve Thomas

Session 1: How health services research can inform healthcare delivery and organisation

11.00-12.30pm Chair: Prof Colin Doherty

Presentations:

Prof France Ruane – Assembling and presenting evidence to improve health care delivery – the Expert Group Report

Alex White – Use of evidence to wider access to primary care

Dr Jarlath Varley – Generating evidence to improve epilepsy care

Respondents - Dr Samantha Smith & Dr James O'Mahony

Discussion

12.40 – 1.30 Lunch

Session 2: How TILDA informs health systems and policy decisions

1.30-2.45pm Chair: Prof Brian O'Connell

Prof Rose Ann Kenny – Reflections on how TILDA informs health systems and policy decisions

Respondents – Dr Mark Ward, Dr Patrick Moore

Discussion

2.45 – 3.15 Coffee

Session 3: How palliative care research informs better end of life care/experience

3.15-4.30pm Chair: Dr Regina McQuillan

Dr Peter May - How palliative care research informs better end of life care

Respondents - Prof Irene Higginson & Dr Bridget Johnston

Discussion

Closing remarks by Prof Charles Normand

6pm Edward Kennedy Health Policy Award & lecture Dr Josep Figueras entitled Getting evidence into policy: a European perspective on the importance of making health systems better Edward Kennedy Guest Lecture and Health Policy Award Tickets, Thu 5 Sep 2024 at 18:00 | Eventbrite