HOW THE COURSE WORKS

Three postgraduate awards are available: Certificate (30 ECTS), Diploma (60 ECTS), and Masters (M.Phil.) (90 ECTS). The M.Phil. takes one year full-time, two years part-time. There is also a framework that enables students to start at Certificate level and proceed to the Diploma and MPhil.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Applicants will normally hold a good honours degree (2.1 or equivalent) in theology from a recognised university. Applicants who have a primary degree in other disciplines will be considered.

Exceptional cases, where applicants do not fully meet the above criteria, but make a reasonable case for admissions, can be considered by the Dean of Graduate Studies.

Most of our classes are held on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday between 4 and 7pm. Classroom learning is enhanced by volunteer placements and immersion experiences in Dublin city.

Trinity College, The University of Dublin

Trinity College Dublin is Ireland's leading university, one of the top-ranking universities in the world, and its Theology and Religion unit is ranked in the world's top 50. Founded in 1592, the university today is a diverse community of students and scholars from around the world.

Trinity's campus of cobbled squares, historic buildings and green spaces hosts state-of-the-art facilities for teaching and research, a world-class library, and a Sports Centre with climbing wall and swimming pool.

Theology and Social Justice is taught interactively and immersively by scholars from Trinity's School of Religion, Theology, and Peace Studies.

Theology and Social Justice offers students unique insight into how religious ideas shape and are shaped by the concrete social realities of today's world. It aims to further efforts to combat poverty, the climate crisis, racism, homelessness, sexism, misogyny, homophobia, ableism, ageism, and religious discrimination.

IS THIS COURSE FOR ME?

If you are looking for an innovative approach to both theology and social justice, and to how they relate to each other, then yes! This programme blends creative and rigorous intellectual work with the struggle for the common good. It is a space to learn new skills, to stretch your mind, to nourish your soul, and to resource a life dedicated to the cause of justice.

Where theology
meets justice,
hope meets action.
